Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Addresses: Delivered at the Dedication of the Agricultural High School at Petersham, Mass;, May 22, 1908 The new school-house in Petersham, built of stone from the adjacent fields, upon a beautiful and commodious site, was the gift of natives and friends of the town. It was dedicated on the 22d of May, 1908. The occasion, which brought together the school committees, superintendents, and teachers of all the neighboring towns, was made memorable by the presence of Mr. George H. Martin, Secretary of the Massachusetts Board of Education, President Eliot, of Harvard University, Hon. Carroll D. Wright, President of Clark College of Worcester, and Mr. Kenyon L. Butterfield, President of the Massachusetts Agricultural College at Amherst, - all of whom addressed the large audience assembled in the Unitarian church, which, unhappily, was burned in the month of September following. At the request of the School Committee, Mr. James W. Brooks acted as Chairman. The exercises began with singing by the pupils of the school, followed by prayer by the Rev. Mr. Spurr. As President Wright was obliged to leave by an early train, he was the first introduced, as follows: - There occasionally appears a man of exceptional character and ability, who begins life with such profound appreciation of its opportunities and responsibilities as consecrates his labor to broad and widening fields of public service and makes the world his debtor. If he may crown his career in such relation to the young as enables him to impart to them the wealth of his gifts and attainments and the inspiration of his example, there is increasing hope for the worthy successors of whom the world stands...
