Circumstances Limiting its Application, xi. Probable Effects upon tho Working-classes. xn. Concluding Remarks. It was with great pleasure that I undertook to prepare tho present lecture, because I have become more and more convinced of the extreme importance of the Industrial Partnership principle to the peace and well-being of the kingdom. The seeming novelty of the proposition, that workmen should become sharers in their master s profits, causes many persons to stigmatise the idea as impracticable, unsound, and opposed to experience. But I believe that the unsoundness...
