He was not to be corrupted either by titles or by money.--Macaulay. As every climate has its peculiar diseases, so every walk of life has its peculiar temptations.--Macaulay. Such a man might fall a victim to power; but truth, and reason, and liberty, would fall with him.--Bolingbroke. History, which undertakes to record the transactions of the past, for the instruction of future ages, would ill deserve that honourable office if she condescended to plead the cause of tyrants, or to justify the maxims of persecution.--Gibbon. The habits of his early life had accustomed him to bear privation with fortitude, but not...
