In the particular case of Denmark, previous and recent publications from several researchers, such as Andersen (The Decline of Class Voting Revisited , 1992), Borre (Old and New Politics , 1995), Knutsen (Voter and Social Cleavages , 2004) and Stubager (The Education Cleavage , 2006), have been devoted to the decline of class voting over the last 15 years. All these authors agree with the assumption that cleavages based on traditional social conflicts have been decreasing in significance and that it fails to explain voters preferences in today s modern Denmark. Instead of that, new cleavages, like sector employment or even new value orientations, decide to a larger extent how citizens cast their votes. In addition to this and compared to the past,...
