This is for airships which are in operation at present. The transportation cost can be cut down more than 75 per cent merely by standardization of methods, organization for the purpose, designs which are suitable and, particularly, enlargements in the size of airship units. In this respect I believe that construction and operation must go together at the start. The more closely we can put them together, the better it will be. Furthermore, airships and airplanes should be operated simultaneously and in close cooperation, because they reinforce and supplement each other in almost every possible way. The general tendency at present is to get away from thinking in terms of any particular types. We are coining to the time...
